Highlands Notes N.C. 11/12-13/18

Corrupted accounts of history & of American political leaders & purposes - i.e. FDR & JFK have "admirers" but not supporters, Lincoln, Jackson, the people & also the Robber Barons, i.e., Rockefeller, who took pride in a P.R. man to be people or all

Romanticized accounts of JFK, and of his part & the beginning of his Presidency

In a book like this it is not enough for the assertion of what is written to be true; it must also be relevant and appropriate. The author is pursuing the readers mind against the American psyche and its leaders [illegible] in it to make a [illegible] of the [illegible]ness of the period when, in fact, he [illegible] a failure — for his campaign was a continuous [illegible] matter how [illegible] and [illegible] and would be [illegible]

made basis he was always [illegible] in foreign affairs & [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible].

But then author

on legal-size paper with broad, [illegible] at the bottom to [illegible] footnotes)

p31 "Kennedy wanted to make [illegible] and expand the present

called in Germania". Nuts.
For the globe-reading globes.
34 - His speeches have not
"strange" to Americans (FDR?)
- "On the front in days of the west, a man who thought was a dizzy man". 22
33 "Washington - a shifty little town
under Truman, typ. of a provincial government in European tradition, at become under Roosevelt the true capital of the nation."
- "Past Presidents of the U.S. always always felt obliged to live down [illegible]
head seriously" - Like Harding, Cleveland?
- "The generals' & generals' wives
on Embassy Row" - not the right

34 Name a address for the JFK years
"Why the ink magnate, celebrities
visiting at the Carol (pic) Channing Hotel, did not feel left out"
1) Bethesda
2) This may be where they met
Kennedy with Congressional people
but it is hardly the place the real "magnates" left their real "whatever" for it is not one of the better hotels. Their little place became known with Bobby Baker. Here again, with this-torian the writer really does not know D.C.
- "Washington was totally transformed ... when the secretary of the Wh was with whites & the Negro Troops were, waiters in the W.H.

learned not to fight "and to change their spots I guess with the best he, no doubt."

35 "He had no need of a strong wife."

37 "His biggest mistake was in considering John Kennedy first as a husband, secondly as a Kennedy and never as President of the U.S."

She goes after him with a sharp knife even in laughing portrait. It is neither necessary nor appropriate, serves no point other than to make JFK seem more the hero-boy-happy hero - part of a device to make of him what he wasn't.

He contacts Jackie, of whom some of his criticism is based of with out proof or else is such a joke, with Jackie's Maggie & then continues by 2 classes - any person, she is another simple person when the JFK in D.C have of his hates (western movies) and affair with Jews Cary Grant, I say remarkable. Just last night writing and not part of any attachment or document, not even poor stage setting.

life ("Kennedy Keeps Mistress") is a really simple Rashomon, a day like Rex Lee's substantial comment on his famous life. But left of the center Lee has come to Rock Hall & still prefers it as meaningful Imperial writing — & like Khrushchev of the USSR & is silent on its involvement in the story.

What happy place has his personal life in his birthplace Norton Rose the secret Service toppled him with a call girl "when he was really in a hurry"

'47 The "liberal intellectuals . . . would have liked to see more lost causes, more big defeats . . ."
Revilo P. Oliver often as intellectual example!

45-6 By the course of this Gov-sponsored, moral, all-knowing JFK regarding whom all were obliged, the author cites as an example his moral code for the Post, including the ban on the acceptance of gifts, suggesting later in the previous chapter he accepted the Presidents' gift of a ~~boat~~ pet dog.

'49 In condemning Allen Dulles, he feels to make his use of Ellis' post two responsibilities (Allen Dulles & Pearl Harbor) but known a half year after Bay of Pigs, but via moderately themselves JFK's death "a significant new Body into the Senior ranks of the administration..."

51 One of JFK's "few mistakes" was cancelling subscription to N.Y.T—he only one cited as example

55 In the list of those who hated JFK (synopsis) "the medical profession...
surpassed all others."

54 An "expert" quoting Manchester?!!

97 "Ever since its creation by Franklin Roosevelt, the FBI has been at war with what it calls
"the forces of evil." (not the exact)

1.4 "The Democratic Party is the only true national party" - not as of this writing is this true (see 232 also)

Often reading part and scanning the rest of page one often knows how this book planned & discussed by its persons, & am unclear of the picture that it is designed to be an

in many ways is impressive, but about Nitze that, even on its doctrine, are not relevant. This is a poisoning of the well of the readers' mind. After reading it & earlier part 3 I can understand it is not a generic work & is appropriately and carefully designed for its purposes. They are not yet clear to me. My impression is that it is for sale to the United States, probably to the Pentagon of the Nitzes).

~~Part One~~ Part 2

137 - Today JFK expanded missiles as the response of Finletter is not enough. Today Khrushchev "faced down" is the careless ignorance.

144 "Kennedy was misled to frame the cold war by diplomacy" etc. Not at that date, though he pretended to.

144 Cuban missile crisis.

This brief section of just a page is an entire misrepresentation of what happened & what the two leaders said and did. It, for example has no quotation from Khrushchev. It doesn't not tell the reader what happened & why, that the skeleton & its effect. What the failure was that brought it on — why it was brought about & the alternative. It amounts to a rewriting of history, for in this book, the industry is such the overwhelming documentation to evidence (which is not yet known) that the author cannot be considered ignorant, unimformed or stupid. After reading the chapter on business and business women I am more convinced of the opinion added of this seeming background material, the extensive quotation from the book, serves the purpose of padding and possibly is a mask for the source of information — can't tell — and the association itself. Tell of this stuff in business is not related to the assassination

Oilmen - 186 It is doubtful that because "the USSR is feeling its way into the world petroleum market" that "this has led to a change in its Middle East policy." With no petroleum interests there its policy would have changed as it has, if only in reaction to CIA policies. (See 198, in Hemple)

96 Can "the CIA remove itself" the total description of what happened in Iran in 1953, he remarked, is an ade quite description as a book with so much story appears, & very much touch great emphasis on it? It makes me wonder

Again on the inclusion of this chapter as an effort to establish a motive for the assassination. It blasphemy, repeat that is well known, keep by it seeks to establish in the readers mind that the real & only motive for the murder was the prevention of JFK's administration the 2nd 50 at completion alone.

With the knowledge that this book is of prime importance the influence if not the fact being of official origin, there is this unmistakable possibility: that they wanted for ultimate purposes to do mischief, perhaps to suggest a U.D. reaction that would work toward eliminating the favorable competitive position of a not unpopular or at least to have them.

It is by now clear that the press has shifted to Hoover, & the next page bears this out. Despite his great wealth & influence, he is the underdog because he is hated by so many because of his personal attacks politics, and because he is a Republ. He is certainly the one who is cited 2nd most on the "Liberals" - almost everyone but the reactionaries - in strong reaction. If I am right, this is truly a shocking book.

236 Hunt starts (it occurs to me that should be followed, he would not likely live through its end).
240 The "myth of the indispensable man"
created by "JFK" and reclaimed by Kennedy is "ridden by" Hunt.
How can this relate to JFK?
By the end of this section, the Hunt-Hu focus is clear. It has been built by a prosecutor-case like melted of heavy what this for an irrelevancies. Pretty much the same could be done with an innocuous number of people and with what at this point, could be
with as much reason & logic
